

St Francis Admonition Day 27.

Of True Humility.

Blessed is the person who shall be found as humble among their subjects as if they were among their masters.

Blessed is the servant who always continues under the rod of correction. They are “faithful and wise servants” who do not delay to punish themselves for all their offences, interiorly by contrition and exteriorly by confession and by works of satisfaction.